A WM. PENN VICTIM DIES

Felix Adrich Died at the Hospital Yesterday.

WAS BURNED INTERNALLY

George Kupchinski, Another Victim of the Explosion, in a Dying Condition. Bear Ridge Victims Recovering.

Special to EVENING HERALD. FOUNTAIN SPRINGS, Feb. 25th.—Felix Adrich, one of the victims of the explosion at Wm. Penn colliery last Thursday, died at the Miners' Hospital here at 1:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The remains have been sent to the family at Shenandoah.

Adrich was 40 years of age. His death was caused by the burning of the inside of his throat, which was due to an inhaling of the flames when the gas exploded. His face and neck were burned, but these injuries were of a comparatively slight character.

George Kupchinski, also a resident of Shenandoah, and a victim of the same explosion, suffers from the inhaling of flames and will probably die.

The victims of the explosion at West Bear Ridge colliery, with the exception of Goff, are doing well. Goff is still delirious, but the chances for his recovery are good.

There are 105 patients in the hospital to day. There are only ninety beds in the institution for patients. The present enrollment is very high, but the figure does not reach the high-water mark. There have been 115 patients in the wards at one time.

Thomas D. James, the fire boss of Wm. Penn colliery, who was also a victim of the explosion, is at his home in Wm. Penn, doing as well as can be expected. He was not burned internally and will recover.

"Lady of Lyons" will not be at the ball, but at the hall.

PENCIL POINTS.

Local News Gleanings Condensed for Hasty Perusal.

Enough snow. Spring is approaching.

A few more weeks of winter. The February thaw may soon be along.

Soon the base ball players will be going out on strikes.

Snowbirds and sparrows have pugilistic encounters every day.

Rheumatic troubles are of frequent occurrence this winter.

On account of the low prices caucuses are holding their goods.

School boys over the state are organizing anti-cigarette leagues.

After such a severe winter spring will be all the more welcome.

The cold weather is killing off the partridges and other game.

A poor cigar never annoys the smoker—it's the other fellow that suffers.

St. Patrick's day in the morning comes on a Sunday this year—March 17th.

Some More Bargains.

Favors Centre Street.

Ed. HERALD.—Much dissatisfaction is apparent because of the condition of Coal street. It is certainly a disgrace in its present condition, and I notice the residents in that vicinity have petitioned the Borough Council for relief. The only remedy for the abatement of this nuisance is for the Traction Company to abandon Coal street and run their cars up West Centre street, which is a much wider thoroughfare and in other ways better adapted for the purpose. The sooner this course is adopted the better it will be for all concerned. N. Shenandoah, Pa., Feb. 25.

Young in "Hamlet."

James Young presented "Hamlet" at Ferguson's theatre Saturday night before a fair-sized audience and appeared in the title role to excellent advantage. Mr. Young's interpretation of the character is a finished one and reflects much study and attention to details. The support was excellent, especially the "Ophelia" of Miss Rida Johnson. The company will appear again to-night, presenting "Lady of Lyons" by request.

Still Burning.

The fire is still raging in West Bear Ridge colliery, but it is closely confined and two streams of water are in constant play.

SUNDAY AT THE CHURCHES

Camps of the P. O. S. of A. Attend Divine Services.

SERMON BY REV. POWICK.

Rev. Lichtenwalner Closes a Three Years Service at the Evangelical Church. A Commendable Movement.

The capacity of the Methodist Episcopal church, on East Oak street, was well taxed last evening by the attendance of a large number of members of the Patriotic Order Sons of America in addition to the regular attendants, to hear a sermon for the special benefit of the society by Rev. William Powick, the pastor. The service had been arranged by Washington Camp No. 112, and nearly two hundred special invitations were issued to members of the order. Camps Nos. 206 and 183 were also well represented. Rev. Powick's subject was "Righteousness Exalteth the Nation." It was a very interesting and able discourse, and those who are not regular attendants at the church were well rewarded for their visit.

Rev. Powick's pastorate at the Methodist Episcopal church is rapidly drawing to a close. He will preach his farewell sermon on March 10th, next, anticipating a transfer by the Philadelphia Conference to Manayunk.

The Trinity Reformed church, through its deservedly popular young pastor, Rev. Robert O'Boyle, inaugurated a self-denial fund last evening, at the close of the regular service. A splendid start was made and it will be continued during the whole solemn season of Lent. The proceeds of this fund are to be distributed among the destitute people of the congregation, if any are found. The plan, which originated with Rev. O'Boyle, is an excellent one and worthy of emulation by the other churches.

Rev. O'Boyle preached a sermon at Gordon yesterday afternoon to the members of Washington Camp No. 62, P. O. S. of A.

Rev. P. M. Lichtenwalner yesterday completed the third year of his pastorate at the Ebenezer Evangelical church yesterday, and the event was marked by twelve converts being taken into the fellowship of the church at the evening service. Rev. Lichtenwalner dispensed with the sermon and devoted the time to reading the rules of the church to the converts and bidding them welcome. In referring to the close of his three years of service the pastor took occasion to thank the congregation for its co-operation and kindness during the term.

Under a rule of the conference the pastors of the Evangelical church the may be returned for one year in addition to their regular term of three years. It is quite likely that Rev. Lichtenwalner will be re-assigned here by the conference, which will convene at Schuylkill Haven next Thursday, as the relations between the pastor and the congregation are of the most favorable character. Revival services will be continued in the church this week.

The services in the Evangelical church next Sunday will be conducted by a clergyman to be assigned by the conference at its sessions in Schuylkill Haven during the latter part of this week.

No services are held in the English Lutheran church, on North Jardin street. The members of the congregation are preparing to associate with other churches, the Home Mission Society having concluded to sell the property.

Dabb has removed his gallery to Hoffman's old stand, West Centre street.

FULL TIME AGAIN.

Break in the Clouds of Adversity For the Miners.

All the collieries of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron and the Lehigh Valley Coal & Navigation companies started working on full time to-day.

The demand for coal has become so active that passenger train crews of the Lehigh Valley road have been turned into coal train service after completing their passenger train runs.

First go to the play, "Lady of Lyons," then to the ball.

Stricken With Paralysis.

Rolandus Correll, one of the oldest locomotive engineers in the employ of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, received a paralytic stroke on Saturday and is in a critical condition at his home in Delano. One side of his body is affected by the stroke. Correll has been an engineer on the Lehigh road since the opening of the Mahanoy branch.

An Odd Dodge.

The company stores below the mountain are buying up the newspapers by taking column "ads."—Sunday News. That is what the company stores did with the News several years ago, when the HERALD held out and fought them.

No Decision Yet.

The congregation of the Evangelical church of town expected a decision in its suit with the Bowmansite faction to-day, but no decision was handed down.

The Last Opportunity.

JAMES YOUNG, as Claud Melnoit.

Since Mr. Young's appearance here last season he has appeared in all the large cities in the South. Next season will be an European tour, opening in Munich and continuing through Germany, England, Scotland and Ireland. Mr. Young will sail in June and may not return until the end of the season, though it may be possible that a short American tour will be made at the close of the foreign engagement. To-night will be produced "The Lady of Lyons." This will be the last time our readers will have an opportunity of seeing Mr. Young and his company. On this farewell visit he will no doubt be greeted with a full house, and generous applause awarded the company's truest work.
